Zen Automation is pleased to offer its latest development

The Robotic Plastic Crate Palletiser

Zen Automation has been the first in the world to develop a Robotic solution to invert the banana capsule while inside the plastic crate, and at the same time retrieve the capsule from the pallet stack and return it to the packing line. The unique revolving tooling means the robot can carry out two functions that would normally require extra equipment. By doing it this way the grower saves on floor space and dollars. The same tool can also be used for capsule and corrugated or just crates. The choice is yours the solution is ours.
